Completely Retail Market Place, London

Another busy day at CRMP less than a week after attending Revo in Liverpool as a guest to cocktail parties.

CRMP had more occupiers than ever. Joint sponsor The Gym Group had just completed on the purchase of 18 clubs from Lifestyle Fitness, and Tim Horton had a stand for the first time. There was lots of chat about changes in the casual dining market, but fast food and drive-throughs are still in demand.

The furniture sector was holding up surprisingly well based on consumer activity, and everyone wanted to meet the discount retailers.

A good day to meet new people in the market and to catch up with old friends.
